

AQUARIUS

LOVE & LUST

Key developments in your love life this year will be hard to ignore. If you're single and would like to commit, the lunar eclipse on January 31st could bring someone special into your life, so ensure you take steps to meet someone this year. Singles should meet someone who truly seems a soul connection by mid-year. For couples, the solar eclipse on February 15th could deepen connections.

PISCES

LOVE & LUST

Romance will gain your full attention in 2018, and love has wings! You'll appreciate the chance to let go of old patterns and bad habits in your love life and to truly engage your heart. Ensure you remain practical, or your imagination may run away with you, leaving singles, especially, open to deceit and disappointment. Romance will peak in May and August.

ARIES

LOVE & LUST

Look out Aries, this could be the year that love takes you by surprise! Romance could revitalise your life, especially during the period from March to September. And, with a passionate feel to the entire year, you'll wish to share your experiences with someone who resonates with you on a deep level. Couples could deepen your ties and singles; this is the year when a soul mate turns your head!

TAURUS

LOVE & LUST

With Jupiter in your love zone for most of 2018, your love life will blossom. Avoid being idealistic about your partner, or you may feel let down when expectations fall short. This is especially necessary as so much of your life this year will revolve around a partner's circumstances. And, while love will flourish, there may be a challenge when Venus will be retrograde in October.

GEMINI

LOVE & LUST

A love link could turn your head this year, with your most romantic time being the month of June. You may even be surprised yourself where love takes you this year. For some twins, there will be a fated connection; for others, an ex may re-light your fire. But don't forget that you're in charge of your own heart and the decisions you make are yours alone; avoid being easily influenced.

CANCER

LOVE & LUST

Romance will appeal more than ever in 2018 - so much so that you may even see your partner through rose-coloured glasses in your quest for love. Singles may idealise prospective partners, so ensure you cross-check your facts. Your home will be the scene of much debate, with early February and the months of July and August shedding light on your true desires where commitment is concerned.

LEO

LOVE & LUST

This is a romantic year, and a seemingly fated relationship will prompt introspection and the question will be this: is my partner a soul mate, or are our paths leading in different directions? With Jupiter in a fabulous aspect with Neptune, romance will blossom, leading to a deeper understanding not only of your partner, but also of yourself.

VIRGO

LOVE & LUST

Events mid-year may ask that you make changes in your life to accommodate romantic love. This year a relationship may become passionate, and January and mid-August may be turning points in your love life. You'll discover there is a new way to approach romantic love: a new pattern that revitalises you and your belief in the universe. You're ready to drop old habits and shed a layer of yourself, allowing you to enjoy deeper love and mutual appreciation.

LIBRA

LOVE & LUST

The draw towards independence may be hard to ignore. You will find ways to balance your commitment to someone you love with your increased search for freedom and a sense of self. And yet, your romantic life may keep you tied to a relationship. September and October could be turning points in your love life, where couples will enjoy deepening your commitment and singles may meet someone who loves your company.

SCORPIO

LOVE & LUST

Events in 2018 will fuel your lust for life, so where you have commitments, it's vital you prioritise these, or you could be led by temptation and make mistakes in existing love relationships. This is a passionate year: follow your heart but don't break it. Singles will enjoy the passionate tone this year, but may be inclined to over-indulge and be easily led by someone else's agenda. Take things step by step and aim to enjoy your love life.

SAGITTARIUS

LOVE & LUST

You'll feel outgoing and upbeat this year, so singles will be ready to enter new territory and potentially to make a commitment. Singles may feel particularly motivated in the first quarter of the year to find a partner you feel happy with. Commitments are most likely to occur in September. This should produce a healing or therapeutic understanding of someone close - and yourself.

CAPRICORN

LOVE & LUST

The eclipses in January, February, July and August this year will be across your 'sharing zone', suggesting singles could begin a new chapter where you enjoy sharing space with someone special; and couples will devise new ways to share common ground such as your finances and duties. This will mean that singles may meet someone you feel ready to commit to; and couples will move into new territory in the way you share aspects of your life.
