VIRGO

You'll appreciate feeling the motivation to get things done in September. All Virgos will get the chance to 'ground' your plans for self-improvement, so it's a good time to take the initiative, and to devise a fresh financial budget, for example. The Pisces Full Moon mid-September will clear the decks for a fresh relationship if you're single; and the chance for couples to reignite romance.

ARIES

You may experience a career boost over the next two months that stabilises your position in your field. There will nevertheless be projects you'd like to complete and you should feel your plans are coming together as a fresh daily work or health routine arises. Love could blossom, so plan a treat and, if you're single, you may meet a match.

TAURUS

The upcoming months are favourable for working Taureans, as you'll get the chance to move forward with your ventures. The dust will begin to settle around the changeable scenarios that have characterised the year so far. There is also a romantic tone for the next two months, especially in early September and mid-October.

GEMINI

You'll appreciate the chance to get your feet on the ground over the next two months at home and to surge ahead with paperwork and written projects. Prepare for a fresh chapter late in September in your domestic or personal life. And then in October, you'll feel the call towards work again and an improvement in your status and career.

CANCER

There is a continuing sense of destiny around the influence certain people have over you for better or worse. Avoid being distracted by the minutiae of your arrangements and focus on your big-picture plans so you infuse your actions with purpose and meaning. Travel, study and, for some, legal matters, will take your focus.

LEO

The next two months could be transformative. Your daily activities may be driven by financial needs; but when you take into account your values and the importance of feeling fulfilled, your projects should flourish. The New Moon supermoon on September 29 signals a fresh financial phase that could be positive, but you must not allow sentiment to rule.

LIBRA

Be prepared to move forward and to improve health and wellbeing. Seek expert advice and knowledge. Once Mercury and Venus are in Libra from mid-September, you'll feel you're gaining traction at work and home. Avoid subscribing to the sense some things in life simply can't be changed.

SCORPIO

September's supermoon New Moon on the 29th will motivate you to be more outgoing. Find ways to boost your daily circumstances. You may hitch your star to a new social circle, group or organisation. A fresh contract may be in the making. Health could improve in September, so find ways to boost wellbeing then; the stars will help you.

SAGITTARIUS

You may enjoy a fresh contract or a key financial development. For some, events will spell a personal circumstance that is healing. You'll feel more outgoing as you head for October; and a delightful social event will be uplifting around the Full Moon on October 14. A fresh domestic or work circumstance could boost your status, so be open to opportunities.

CAPRICORN

You could build more stability at work and in your general circumstances over the next two months. The Libran New Moon supermoon on September 29 points to the chance to bring more healing and peace into your life. In October, there will be focus around your home life, family and/or a property, and you'll get the chance to change dynamics.

AQUARIUS

Changes over the coming months are part of a bigger-picture process that makes way for improvements across the board in your life. But for change to occur, there may be intense developments, especially around the New Moon supermoon on September 29. Be prepared for new beginnings and to forge fresh agreements.

PISCES

The next two months are ideal for self-improvement, a holiday, romance and creativity. Singles may find this a good period to spend time with fun people and, if you're feeling inclined to commit to someone special, this could be it! Couples will enjoy reigniting romance.
