

LIBRA (Sep 24 - Oct 23)

2022 sees an unpredictable element in your love life. Flashpoints for change will be January, the end of February, mid-March, the end of April and August through to November. Navigate these hotspots carefully to keep your love life on an even keel. Singles may find lovers are unpredictable or non-committal, so if you're looking for a commitment, be clear about this early on.

The first quarter will be the most romantic, and is ideal for deepening connections and singles may even find 'the one'.

SCORPIO (Oct 24 - Nov 22)

Couples who work and play together will enjoy a greater sense of togetherness. Singles who have spent many years alone are likely to consider a commitment as an upbeat and independent individual could catch your eye in the first half of 2022.

The second half of the year will be feistier than the first, so look for ways to channel strong emotions and passions into collaborative projects and romance rather than into disruptive tempers, especially at the end of October and early November.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 23–Dec 21)

This could be a roller-coaster year, so be prepared to find balance. If you must contend with a stubborn partner, one of you will need to be more adaptable. Otherwise, a stubborn or erratic relationship will reach a crossroads. Potential breaking points will be the first and third quarters. You will see the chance to overcome differences during the second and fourth quarters of 2022.

Luckily, the new moon on 29 July will be revitalising for couples, and singles may find someone you wish to spend more time with.